“WHAT IS YOUR PERSONALITY TYPE?”

TYPE A PERSONALITY

- Is a highly independent and driven personality, typically representing the leaders in business.

They are blunt, competitive, no-nonsense types who like to get to the point. They are also strong entrepreneurial spirits (risk-takers). As such, they embrace change and are always looking for practical solutions for solving problems.

- Thrives on change and fears routine
- Has an entrepreneurial streak
- Enjoys taking risk and is driven to succeed
- Is competitive and aggressive
- Is impatient and is not a good listener
- Is persistent in getting what he/she wants

TYPE B PERSONALITY

- Represents highly extroverted people who love the spotlight. Because of this, they are very entertaining and possess strong charisma (everyone likes to be around them).

Small wonder these people are sales and marketing types. They thrive on entertaining people and are easily hurt if they cannot sway someone (such as "bombing" on stage).

- Loves to have a good time
- Likes being the center of attention
- Needs to be liked by others
- Tends to be talkative and outgoing
- Is relaxed and laid back
- Is not competitive or aggressive

“BIRTH ORDER & PERSONALITY”

From “Birth Order and You”
by
Dr. Ronald Richardson and Lois Richardson

- ❑ FIRST-BORN CHILDREN
 - Are perfectionist, serious, careful and conscientious. Do not like surprises and prefer to be in control. Often take leadership roles.
- ❑ SECOND-BORN CHILDREN
 - Are more rebellious. Break rules and question more in order to get noticed. Sometimes feel left out and not respected. Are often called “catch-up kids” because they are trying to catch up to their older sibling. Are often the best adjusted as adults.
- ❑ YOUNGEST CHILD
 - Love attention. Are charming, outgoing, affectionate and uncomplicated. Are sometimes spoiled. Sometimes feel left out and not taken seriously.
- ❑ ONLY CHILD
 - Are, like eldest children, overachievers. Are, like youngest children, often pampered. Are at ease with themselves and have high self-esteem. Are sometimes smothered with attention by their parents.

TYPE C PERSONALITY

- The antithesis of Type "B"; they are introverted detailists as represented by such people as accountants, programmers, and engineers.

They may have trouble communicating to other people, but are a whirlwind when it comes to crunching numbers or writing program code.

They tend to be very cautious and reserved, and will not venture into something until after all the facts have been checked out.

- Takes everything seriously
- Thrives on details & accuracy
- Is predictable and dependable
- Is loyal and patient
- Is thoughtful and sensitive
- Likes facts

TYPE D PERSONALITY

- Is best characterized as those people who resist any form of change and prefer the tedium of routine, such as in clerical assignments.

They are not adventurous, resist responsibility and prefer to be told what to do.

- Doesn't like to take charge
- Prefers a set of guidelines that he/she can follow
- Is supportive of others
- Is punctual and consistent
- Is content and happy with life and him/herself
- Doesn't mind doing repetitive tasks
